WONDERFUL HOW IT CURED

Says Miss Gertrude Gatlin, of Timberville, Miss., After She Had Taken Cardui For Her

Timberville, Miss.-Miss Gertrude

Gatlin, of this place, writes: "I did not know that anything could stop the womanly pains from which I had suffered for two years, until I tried your wonderful medicine, Cardui.

"I had been troubled with various fe-male ailments, but they were cured in a little while, thanks to Cardui.

"When I hear any of my friends say they feel bad, I tell them ro try Cardui. It is a blessing to womanhood." Not every medicine can be depended on to cure a woman's ills.

Not every tonic will bring back wo-man's health.

Cardui, the woman's tonic medicine, will do both, by the power of its unique, specific, curative, strengthening ingredients, especially adapted for use in cases of female ailments.

Composed exclusively of pure, vegetable materials, with a gentle, strengthening action on the system, Cardui is perfectly harmless to young and old and can be relied upon to have absolutely no bad after effects.

Thousands of thankful ladies have written to tell of the benefit Cardui has been to them. Why not to you?

Will you try it?

Attack on Don Leavy.

It is stated that there were some spectacular incidents at this meeting, and that the Clay Ward member of the committee, Mr. Don Leavy, was sharply attacked for voting for the compromise plan in the subcommittee, it being proposed that a petition be circulated asking for his resignation from the Council, and the suggestion was made that certain alleged evidence he placed before the Commonwealth's Attorney with a view of possible grand jury proceedings, the inference being that certain Councilmen are too closely allied to street car interests; an insinuation as hotly denied by the Councilmen as by officials of the car company, both of whom demand proof and characterize such insinuations as gross libels.

Mr. Omohundro was unwilling to discuss in detail the work of the meeting, saying that it had been of semi-private character, and held at his own house. James I. O'Keefe, of 312; Ployd Avenue, said that no formal charges against Mr. Don Leavy had been made in the meeting; that the view had been expressed that he was not properly looking after the Interests of his Clay Ward constituents. Rumors of various transactions were mentioned, and speakers did say that the grand jury might well look into the relations between certain Councilmen and the car company. Mr. O'Keefe said that so far as he knew, such relations, if any, were only rumored, and he had no evidence to present, It was the sense of the meeting, however, that the grand jury should probe the matter in view of current reports.

"Our attorneys tell us," said Mr. O'Keefe, "that the City Attorney's opinion does not touch on the point involved, in view of annexation. Mr. Omobundro said that the action taken in regard to the Westhampton line he regarded simply as an entering wedge to do away with tickets in all sections of the city. His section, he said, had rather have the present service each half-hour with transfers and tickets, than what is proposed, and would rather take its chances of a light in the courts should the company cut off transfer, and tickets from the Westhampton line than to enter into any compromise.

Then, too, he said, the people of Cuba and Mexico have never had Christian songs in a real sense. He did not

Air. Williamson declares that Senator George B. Keczell went to the State Senate, drew salary for a full term, and then came back to Rockingham and put out of office the Treasurer (E. W. Carpenter), took the office himself, and right on the jump announced himself a candidate for next term.

Air. Williamson says that although this happened six months ago, still Keczell calls his (Williamson's) announcement premature.

Continuing, Mr. Williamson charges that Senator Keczell has disregarded the calls from all parts of the State for his services in the Senate, and in the face of them all parts of the State for his services in the Senate, and in the face of them all hars decided to run for County Treasurer.

ELOPING COUPLES COLLEGE TEAMS LEAVE IN AUTOS DEBATE TO-NIGHT

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Bristol, Va., April 27.—After an exciting flight, during which they were pursued by the police and prowere pursued by the police and professors in an automobile, two young women students from Sullins College, the big Methodist female college in this city, were this evening married to two prep, students of King College, at Church Hill, Hawkins county, Tenn. They were Miss Anna Harris of Florida, and Miss Eula Mae Gavin, of Alabama, and they were married to Samuel Wood and Kent Kane, respectively.

The clopers left here in n automobile, and had several hours start of the officers and college professors before it was discovered that the girls were missing. Time was lost in telegraphing along the railroad to officers to have them stopped, as it was not thought that they had gone overland. When it was found the direction in which the fleeing couples had gone, were pursued by the police and pro-fessors in an automobile, two young were missing. Time was lost in telegraphing along the railroad to officers to have them stopped, as it was not thought that they had gone overland. When it was found the direction in which the fleeing couples had gone, officers and college professors impressed an auto and started in hot pursuit, only to arrive at Church Hill flee minutes after the couples had been married by Rev. W. C. Crockett. The boys slipped the girls out of the college a few evenings ago for an automobile ride, and they were prompting expelled, but were being held until their parents could be heard from Realizing their responsibility for the girls' plight, the boys arranged the double and sensational elopement, and without being detected the four left overland in an automobile.

The girls are seventeen and pineteen, respectively, and the boys each about one year older. The elopers have not yet returned. It is said the boys may be prosecuted.

An affecting tribute was paid by Bishop Wilson, the senior bishop of the church. He indorsed Bishop Hendrix's comment on Bishop Branbery as "the St. John of the Episcopal College" The simple and manly virtues of the Virginian could hardly have been given choicer expression than in the words of the venerable bishop. He would have the money sent to churches with the statement, "In the name of John C. Granbery, we first you this loan."

At this afternoon's public meeting, beginning at 3 o'clock, Bishop W. R. Lambuth will speak on Brazil, and Bishop R. G. Waterhouse on the work on the -acific slope. At the night service Bishop W. A. Canaler will deliver an address on "Church Extension as a Missionary Agency," while Bishop John C. Kilgo will speak on "Church Extension as a Missionary Agency," while Bishop John C. Kilgo will speak on "Church Extension as a Missionary Agency," while Bishop John C. Kilgo will speak on "Church Extension as a mission and the Washington City Representative Church."

An interesting point in the report of Dr. McMurry, was the statement that the effort to aid the colored Methodist Episcopal churches had not been met with favor, only a small amount having been realized. Very few of the conferences assumed the amount apportioned. The people say that when a colored church is to be built, they Leaving Out Post-Office, Permits Exceed Those of Last Year.

Building permits for the month of April, from present prospects, will fall far behind the total of last April, the spring month last year having included the government Post-Office building, valued at $718,000. Aside from that unusual piece of construction, the April permits so far exceed the total of last year's work, new work authorized during the month having reached a total of $214,000 and repair work $41,000.

When plans are filed for the new First National Bank skyscraper, the Ruegor Hotel and the new home of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, all of which are in course of preparation, the total for the year will greatly exceed that of the corresponding period.
